Northern Dems Push Action on Civil Rights

Try to Pry Bill Out Of Rules Committee; GOP Remains Aloof

WASHINGTON (AP) — Northern Democrats moved today to pry the civil rights bill out of the House Rules Committee. But Republicans held aloof in hopes of getting a measure closer to President Eisenhower's program.

Four Democrats on the 12-member rules group planned to present a formal written demand for being Southern Democrats bitterly opposed to civil rights legislation, the Northern Democrats needed the help of at least three of the four GOP members of the committee to force the bill to the House floor for action.

But for the moment at least, the Republicans were reported withholding support.

GOP strategy reportedly was to utilize the Republican balance of power on the committee to seek concessions from the Northern Democrats who want the House to accept the Senate civil rights bill with a jury trial amendment narrowed to voting rights cases.

The House originally passed a bill that conformed generally to Eisenhower administration proposals. It would give the attorney general authority to seek federal court injunctions against violations of civil rights in general. Persons violating such injunctions could be jailed by a judge for contempt and there would be no jury trial.

The Senate stripped from the bill the general civil rights authority and limited the injunction provision to voting rights cases. Then it wrote in a requirement that jury trials must be granted in most criminal contempt cases. This requirement would apply not only to voting rights cases but to a wide range of cases having nothing to do with civil rights.

The Eisenhower administration is strongly opposed to this jury trial provision in criminal contempt cases, claiming it would hinder judges in enforcement of their orders and hamper federal regulatory agencies.

CHURCHILL SON-IN-LAW FOUND DEAD—Anthony Beauchamp, right, son-in-law of Sir Winston Churchill, was found dead in his London, England, apartment, Aug. 18, and police said an overdose of sleeping pills caused his demise. Beauchamp, who was 39, is shown with his wife, actress Sarah Churchill, as they arrived at New York from London in June, 1954.

Actress' Mate Dies of Sleeping Pill Overdose

LONDON (AP) — An overdose of sleeping pills took the life Sunday of Anthony Beauchamp, husband of Sir Winston Churchill's actress daughter Sarah, police said.

The 39-year-old society photographer and television producer apparently died alone in his apartment overlooking Hyde Park. He had not been seen lately with Sarah, who is four years his senior.

Beauchamp and his wife had been living apart for three years. Sarah Churchill, who has spent most of the last three years making television films in the United States, stayed with her parents when in England. She was not available for comment on her husband's death.

It was reported she and her husband had an agreement. They would not get a divorce while Sir Winston, now 82, was alive. She was four years older than Beauchamp.

Police were sent to Beauchamp's apartment by a pre-dawn telephone call from Davina West, who said Beauchamp had just called her at her home in London's fashionable Chelsea section. "I pleaded with Anthony," she told police. "I tried to persuade him not to be foolish. I was frantic. While I talked, suddenly the line seemed to go dead."

Getting no response to the doorbell, police and firemen broke into the apartment where Beauchamp had lived for three years. They found him dead in his bedroom, the telephone receiver dangling. His wife was not available for comment.

Beauchamp was an official war artist during World War II while Sarah was serving in the British Air Force Auxiliary and acting as

Uruguayan Raps Lack of U.S. Aid

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The United States came under attack today as delegates to the Inter-American Economic Conference opened discussions on economic problems of the Western Hemisphere.

Washington P. Bermudez, of Uruguay and chairman of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council, charged the U. S. is not helping enough to solve the problems of Latin America.

He called on the United States "to satisfy the expectations that its position as the economic leader of the American community logically has aroused."

"If it wishes to preserve integral unity in the American system," Bermudez said, "the United States should make a serious effort to understand certain essential aspirations of Latin American countries."

Unionist to Face Quizzing on Locals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Einar O. Mohn, executive vice president of the Teamsters Union, was called for questioning today about testimony that he issued charters for phony locals in New York in a power plant engineered by James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters and heir apparent to Dave Beck as president of the giant union, also is slated to testify before the Senate Rackets Committee Tuesday, or possibly late today.

The committee neared the end of its probe into charges that Hoffa teamed with racketeer Johnny Dio and other New York mobsters in an effort to extend his sway into the New York area.

Mohn, Beck's right-hand man in the union, balked at answering questions about other Teamster affairs when he appeared last winter before the regular Senate Investigations subcommittee.

He challenged that group's jurisdiction. He was cited for contempt of Congress and now is awaiting trial.

However, Mohn told a newsman he would answer the Rackets Committee's question without invoking any Fifth Amendment privileges against possible self-incrimination — a widespread practice among previous committee witnesses.

Thomas L. Hickey, a Teamster vice president and a candidate for union president, told the committee last week Hoffa originated the plan to set up the phony locals in an effort to assure additional votes for his candidate, John O'Rourke, for president of the New York Joint Council of Teamsters. These locals, with officers but no members, had voting rights in the council election.

The establishment of the locals was denounced as a fraud against the union by Martin Lacey, whom O'Rourke unseated. O'Rourke, in an earlier appearance before the committee, declined to answer questions about Teamster affairs.

Crowning of Fair Kina And Queen Set Tomorrow

LISBON — Columbiana County's 112th annual fair will open Tuesday with activities devoted to 4-H, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America and Junior Fair Day.

Highlighting the Junior Fair Day will be the naming of the fair king and queen and the crowning by last year's king and queen, Joel Greenstein and Betty Jo Hawkins.

Activities will start at 8 a. m. with steer weighing; 9 a. m., Junior dairy show; 9:15 a. m., 4-H auto parade; 10:30 a. m., 4-H tractor parade; 1 p. m., 4-H band concert; 2 p. m., parade of 4-H club floats; 2:45 p. m., 4-H and FFA style revue; 3 p. m., talent show by members of 4-H, FFA and Future Farmers of America; 6:30 p. m., grand parade of winning floats and livestock before king and queen and royal court; 8 p. m., variety show in front of grandstand.

Fair entries are expected to be in place by 5 p. m. today and arrangement of exhibits completed by 10 p. m., fair officials said. Barring bad weather the fair board expects a record attendance, with one of the largest entries in the history of the fair.

Special attractions are booked for each night in front of the grandstand. There will be a horse show Wednesday night. The Midwesterners of WLW-TV's "Midwest Hayride" will appear Thursday night, and The Crew Cuts will sing Friday night. The closing program Saturday night will feature variety acts.

Harness racing is scheduled at 1:30 p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

World Peace Is Fondest Wish Of Baruch, 87

OLD WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to presidents and park-bench philosopher, celebrates his 87th birthday today with one wish: to see the dawn of world peace.

The Camden, S.C., native, who amassed three million dollars by the age of 32, will spend the day at a summer cottage here on Long Island. He expects visits from his three children.

Sunday, Baruch sat on a porch and talked informally about making his first million dollars, the difficulty of finding a formula for betting on horse races and denying that he never drank intoxicating liquor.

"I've never been a teetotaler of anything in my life," he said.

The famous stock market trader and government fiscal expert grew serious when the conversation drifted to world peace and the Baruch plan for atomic control, which the Soviet Union rejected.

"If I had one wish to be granted me, I should like to see a start made toward permanent peace in the world. Agreements between nations will not guarantee it."

"There must be an international authority which owns all the natural resources and fissionable materials required to wage atomic war. The authority must also have control of the necessary scientific and metallurgical processes."

"Then all the world's atom bombs must be handed over to the authority for debombing. The danger of contamination by fallout is thus eliminated because there would be no testing of atomic weapons. All atomic energy will be utilized for peaceful purposes."

Baruch's 6-foot-4 frame is sparse and bent only slightly. He

Gen. Bizry Now Controls Forces, Conducts Purge

Red General's Move Made with Approval Of Sick President

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Volatile Syria apparently moved closer to the Communist bloc today as pro-Soviet officers purged rightists from the politically powerful army.

Gen. Afif Bizry, known throughout the Middle East as the most extreme leftist in Syria's army, took control of the army over the weekend, usually reliable sources said.

Bizry, 43, a known Communist, immediately began to purge right-wing opponents. Thirteen officers were fired or resigned in Damascus and a number fled to Beirut.

While Premier Sabri Assali's Moscow-oriented government seemed to have been strengthened President Shukri Kuwaty's professed neutrality between East and West—already cloudy behind Russian arms deals—became a little more indistinct.

Kuwaty had once threatened to resign rather than let Communist supporters take complete control of the army. But the weekend's virtual coup d'etat by leftists came with formal approval of the sick President.

Kuwaty signed a presidential decree Saturday jumping Bizry from lieutenant colonel to general and making him army commander in chief and chief of staff, an official announcement said.

Then, amid rumors that Kuwaty had resigned—which Assali denied—the President flew to Egypt yesterday. In Cairo for the third time in six months, he talked with Egyptian President Nasser for more than an hour.

The Syrian and Egyptian armies are united under the joint command of an Egyptian officer and both are heavily stocked with Soviet arms. But Nasser has kept his own Communists suppressed.

Purpose of Kuwaty's trio was officially announced as a medical checkup in Alexandria. He flew to Alexandria after seeing Nasser and went to a hospital.

The events that brought Communists to power in the army of Missouri-sized Syria began — in the best fashion of Soviet Russia — with charges of foreign plotting to overthrow the government.

Well-informed sources here said Syria's charge last Tuesday that the United States was seeking to oust Kuwaty was used as a blind for the leftists.

The government ordered three American diplomats out of the country after charging a U.S. plot to "buy" a pro-American regime with economic aid offers after a coup d'etat. The State Department called the charges pure fabrication and expelled two Syrian diplomats in retaliation.

Two days after the plot charges, the government "announced that

Tough Mafia Band

By VICTOR RIESEL

Victor Riesel

I did not turn my one Cashmere sport coat into a torn dust jacket and slip into the Sicilian hills to track down personally the secrets of the Mafia. That would have been romantic journalism, but unproductive. No one talks.

The last fellow who tried to talk, Gaspare Pisciotto, was doing a life term in prison here. On the morning of Feb. 9, 1954, shortly after he had exposed some Mafia boss by turning state's evidence, he drank his morning coffee in the Palermo prison. He didn't get underworld lockjaw. He dropped dead. Poisoned.

I simply asked about the Mafia here in Rome. Those who know say it's a tough second government in Sicily. But they scoff at America's belief that it runs our underworld. We've deported several thousand New York, Chicago, New Orleans and other gangsters to this country. But the Mafia scorns virtually all of them.

TRUE, THE MAFIA here will sell protection to banditti by sharing in the take. But it is far more than a crime syndicate. It is a social system. It is, in fact, a conservative social system, hating outsiders who try to impose any civilian law or police restrictions. It has been known to blow up Communist headquarters. It has shot it out with the toughest Communist organizers and left many of them dead on the streets in the years when the Communists terrorized much of Italy.

Back in 1948, someone shot and almost killed the Communist party chief, Palmiro Togliatti.

For days, even Rome was run by Communist gangs. Cars were overturned. Buses stopped. Iron shutters covered store fronts.

SOME OF our highest officials, including the present Ambassador Zellerbach, who then was Marshall Plan chief, were forced to move in convoy and slip into our headquarters by back elevators.

As the ambassador, tells it, his wife had to lock herself into her room in the Grand Hotel for three days. Of all Italy, Sicily, home of the Mafia, was quiet.

The Mafia was powerful then, though it had almost been wiped out 10 years earlier. It revived after the last war.

There are those who tell visiting

Americans that our troops made contact with the Mafia underground during the invasion.

Our intelligence officers brought in some Sicilian Americans who knew the language and terrain. The Mafia helped fight the Nazis as the Mafia always fought invaders who came to rule the island of Sicily.

The very name Mafia is made up of initials which in Italian stand for death to the French invader, and go back to Napoleonic days.

TODAY THE MAFIA can still hit hard. It has its wily hands in crime, because no crime exists without its consent — even if this is unspoken.

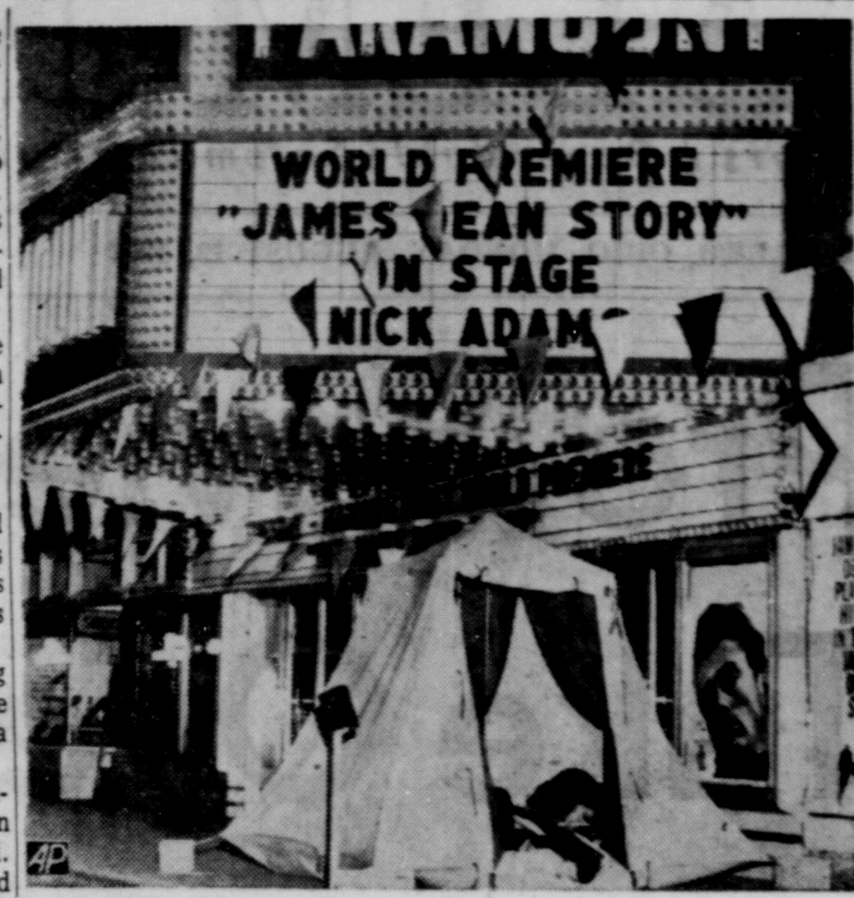

Frequently, it tolerates the thug because the thug proves that the police are helpless if the Mafia provides protection.

But it does more than disdainfully offer the criminal a haven merely to nettle the carabinieri. The Mafia wants to prove — and does so quite successfully — that it is the sole authority, to the exclusion even of today's strong national government.

The Mafia has convinced the Sicilians that it is dishonorable to go to the police or the civilian courts for action against other citizens and firms even on civilian business matters. The Mafia is paid for protection.

This is a tax to the second government. As one commentator put it recently:

"The Mafia looks after its own. It can trace lost goods. It can recover money stolen from its clients. It can provide bandits with immunity from arrest.

"The Mafia has come back to Sicily as the real civil power in the island. Palermo is its center."

IT IS NATURAL that it would not overlook the island's unions. These unions are affiliated with

Columbiana G.O.C. Members To Get Cleveland Trip

Group to See Indians' Game Sometime After Labor Day

COLUMBIANA — Twenty members of Columbiana Post of the Ground Observer Corps will get an expense-paid trip to a Cleveland Indians' baseball game in September.

Holdup Trio Faces Stark County Jury

CANTON, Ohio — Three men accused of taking about $500 in a holdup at a grocery store in near-by Fairhope Aug. 8 pleaded innocent to armed robbery charges in Municipal Court here Saturday.

They waived preliminary hearing and were held to the Stark County Grand Jury under bonds of $50,000 each set by Judge D. L. McCarroll.

The three wounded a policeman who trapped them in nearby Louisville, Ohio, and then hid for 24 hours in the farm home of Homer Fenstermaker, holding Fenstermaker and his family hostage.

A force of 100 officers drove the trio from the home with tear gas and bullets, but no one was injured.

The trio—Robert L. Kline, 25, of Phoenix, Ariz.; Walter J. Miller, 28, of Los Angeles, Calif.; and William G. Rhoades, 25, of Anderson, Ind.—told Sheriff Harry W. Grossglauss they met at the Port Ord, Calif., disciplinary barracks and hatched their plan to form a gang.

Sheriff Grossglauss said the three admitted under questioning that they got cash and merchandise totaling $6,175 in robbery ventures that took them as far as Arizona.

Their crime spree started June 19 in Stark County, where it ended, the sheriff said.

Harris Lile, the Louisville patrolman who was wounded when he trapped the men in a blind alley, was reported in good condition today at Mercy Hospital here.

Famed Criminal Lawyer May Enter Politics

SAN FRANCISCO — George T. Davis, widely known criminal lawyer whose clients have included Caryl Chessman, Death Row author, and the late Tom Mooney, said Sunday night he was seriously considering running for attorney general.

Davis, 50, a Democrat, said he was thinking of making the race if Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, present attorney general, runs for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1958.

Davis never has run for public office. But he has been an active party worker.

Mooney, convicted in the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing which killed 10 in San Francisco, was pardoned by Gov. Culbert L. Olson in 1939 after his case went four times to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Poison-Coated Dagger Stolen From Consul

NEW YORK — A poison-coated dagger that might bring a quick and painful death with a single cut has been stolen from the apartment of an Indonesian consular official.

Police issued this warning: "Don't take that kris out of the scabbard. The blade is poisoned. Just touching it to any open wound could be fatal."

The seventh century dagger, with an ivory handle and gold-covered teakwood scabbard, valued at $3,000, was stolen Saturday night from the Riverdale apartment of Koesmartono Pradikusono.

He is deputy chief of the supply mission attached to the Indonesian consular general's office.

The 42-year-old official returned with his wife and two children from a visit to New Canaan, Conn. about 11 p.m. Saturday to find the dagger and about $6.70 in coins missing.

He said the kris had been in his family for generations and is passed on from father to son. The official said it is considered sacred and capable of warding off evil spirits from the rightful owner's family.

Each year, it is sent to a Hindu monk who bathes the blade in a solution of poisonous herbs, roots and sulphur. It got its last bath three years ago, he said.

Bishop Criticizes Reform 'Eagerness'

MINNEAPOLIS — A Swedish bishop today defended the church's right to reform but said that right does not justify "an itching eagerness to change."

Bishop Bo H. Gieritz of the Church of Sweden's Gothenburg diocese, in an address prepared for the Lutheran World Federation, said there is one thing in the church which can never be changed—the Gospel.

"No authority in the church has the power to alter the smallest letter in this Gospel," the Swedish cleric said. "Here there can be no willingness to compromise. To all suggestions to reform the message of the church and its manner of work, the church must reply simply, 'No, Jesus is the way, the truth, the life. No one comes to the Father but through him.'"

Sessions of the federation's third assembly resumed after a day of rest for the thousands attending. No organized program was scheduled Sunday.

Westville Club Meets With Mrs. Wuthrick

WESTVILLE — The Westville Community Club was entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Marie Wuthrick.

Mrs. Wuthrick, Mrs. Paul Oswald was co-hostess. Projects for making money were discussed.

Mrs. Edna Kissel will entertain in Sept. with Mrs. Winnie Mason as co-hostess.

Fifteen friends from Sebring, Beloit, and Westville enjoyed a picnic supper Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall of Westville Lake.

Miss Rose Trummer, a senior at Goshen high school, is attending camp at Carrollton this week.

MRS. NORMAN HENDERSON and daughters Beth and Greta Lou and Mrs. Robert Trummer and sons Robert and Donald were Wednesday supper guests of Mrs. Trummer's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Timney of Akron.

The Elizabeth Ehrhart Missionary society of Westville church held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Russell Myers Monday. It was decided to give a sum of money to support a girl in Greece.

Thieves' Labor Nets Them Only 35 Cents

IRVINGTON, N. J. — Thieves broke into North Jersey Dairyland Inc., Sunday, removed a 50-pound safe, dragged it down two flights of a fire escape and then jammed it into an automobile.

They drove the safe five miles before lugging it out of the car and prying it open.

The fruit of their labors? Thirty-five cents. A company spokesman said that was all the safe contained.

15 Mahoning 4-H Members To Compete at State Fair

Fifteen Mahoning County 4-H members will participate directly or indirectly in the Ohio State Fair at Columbus next week.

George Welker, member of the Beaver Buckeye Boys Club, will participate in the tractor operator's contest Aug. 23.

Also competing on the 23rd will be the dairy judging team composed of Lynn Slagle, Carol Wehr and Wayne Griffiths. Lynn is a member of the Yellow Creek Spartans; Carol, Meadowbrook Dairy Maids; and Wayne, Goshen Good Growers.

Lynn, Carol, and Barbara Wehr recently won second place honors in judging at Dairy Day at Wooster.

At the annual 4-H style revue held Thursday a number of winners were selected. Five girls will have exhibits on display at the state fair.

Karen Wilhelm of the Zippers Cook and Sew Club will exhibit an apron from her "4-H Articles to Use and Wear" project; Becky Johnson of the Little Sewers Make Fine Things Club will have a tea towel on display, a part of her "Let's Sew" project; Barbara Kille of the Genial Goshenettes is exhibiting articles from her "Loosing Clothes and Undergarments" project.

Lorraine Trenary, Poland Farmerettes, won first in the "Sports Clothes" class; and Laura Ammon of Greenford Busy Bees will have her "Complete Costume" on exhibit. All five of the preceding articles and garments will be displayed during the entire week of the fair.

On Aug. 24, the following three girls will participate in the state style revue by modeling the garments they made: Marguerite Vickers, Berlin Sunshine Workers, will model her dress-up-dress; Mary Jane Diehl, Canfield Buttercups, her tailored outfit; and Janet Mincks, Happy-Go-Lucky Club, her complete costume consisting of brown dress with red accessories.

Two demonstrations will be presented August 24 by 4-H'ers from the county. Karen West and Karen Adair will demonstrate the application of "Artificial Respiration" to a drowning victim. Both girls are members of the Ellsworth Jr. Farmers Club.

William Johnson Jr. of the Poland Hoe Handlers will demonstrate the "Operation of Hydraulic Brakes." These two demonstrations were selected at the county demonstration contest held Friday evening.

To be eligible for activities or contests at the state level, a 4-H club member must be at least 14 years old on Jan. 1 of that year, and have been in club work for at least three years.

The tractor rodeo contest, style revue, and demonstration contest will also provide feature activities at the Canfield Fair. A junior demonstration contest will be provided for members 10 to 14 years of age. Younger girls are also eligible to participate in the style revue.

Aid to Cities, Farmers Hit By Lawmaker

WASHINGTON — Rep. Wint Smith (R-Kans.) thinks it unfair that the farmer is so often singled out as a beneficiary of the tax dollar.

City dwellers get their full share, too, he said today, asserting that the federal urban redevelopment program is "designed to milk the U. S. treasury of tax funds."

"This program provides that the federal government will provide our large cities with your tax dollars—to tear down these so-called unsightly and blighted areas," he said in a newsletter to constituents.

Bills generally authorizing two billion dollars for such programs as urban redevelopment, slum clearance and public housing passed the House or are being considered in the Senate, he said. He added that the budget cannot be cut and taxes cannot be reduced if Congress continues to pass such authorizations.

Smith said it gets a bit "monotonous" to Congressmen from rural districts to hear so many references made to farm subsidies and farm programs.

"Just for the record," he said, "I want to point out that the big cities are recipients of billions of dollars for their housing programs."

"If there is any group of businessmen and allied industries who have received more benefit from federal aid in the form of guaranteed mortgages than the builders of houses, I just don't know who they are."

Damascus

Mrs. Harold Ritchey entertained members of the Progressive Farm Women's Club at a luncheon Thursday. The afternoon was spent making puppets for children in hospitals and visiting. Mrs. T. R. Cromwell will be the hostess at the next meeting Sept. 19.

The Friendship Circle Class of the Methodist Church will be entertained by Mrs. Emil Stanley Wednesday evening Aug. 21. Mrs. G. R. Morton will be the associate hostess.

The Young People of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends will be entertained at the Goshen Union High School Monday evening, Aug. 19 by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Damascus Quarterly Meeting.

Miss Janet Mincks, member of the Happy Go Lucky 4-H Club won high honors when she modeled her special occasion dress at Canfield Thursday. She will model it at the State Fair Aug. 24 and will appear on a Youngstown TV station Aug. 26.

Committee Seeks Toll-Free Seaway

NEW YORK — A committee formed to fight a toll-free St. Lawrence Seaway move has appealed to 60 Congressmen from New York and New Jersey for their aid.

Officials of the bistate group, known officially as the New York-New Jersey Committee for a self-supporting seaway, said at a news conference Sunday they are trying to head off efforts by prospective midwestern users to operate the seaway with "low tolls or no tolls."

Public conferences on seaway self-liquidating toll structure tolls are scheduled for next month in Washington, D. C., and Chicago.

The committee which plan to expand into a nationwide organization, has contacted similar groups in other cities seeking a united front against proposals to have taxpayers foot the bill for the seaway and its operation.

The seaway is to open the Great Lakes in 1969 to ocean-going ships that draw as much as 25 feet of water.

When Congress voted in 1954 to allow the U. S. to participate with Canada in construction of the $600 million dollar waterway, the measure provided that the work was to be paid for in 30 years under a

Postal Policy

It is incredible that the Senate should still be floundering over postal policy when public opinion is firmly set against further additions to the postal deficit.

The House already has settled the matter. It wants postal rates to be increased to minimize the postal deficit. It wants rates to be adjusted to the Post Office Department's increasing overhead.

But the Senate is bogged down in a foolish controversy over whether or not the service performed by the department should be charged for in ratio to rising costs.

There is no question even in the Senate about charging something; no one is proposing that the service be performed with no charge at all. The question is whether or not the charge should be increased to reflect rising costs.

Public opinion is far ahead of senatorial opinion. Public opinion is prepared for higher rates on mailed matter to keep the postal deficit from growing larger. Postmaster General Summerfield warns that it could become more than a billion dollars if postal employees are given a raise with no increase in rates.

Yet, the Senate is not expected to agree to an increase, apparently because most senators assume an increase would be bad politics.

The worst politics would be to tack several hundred million to the postal deficit. The American people would grin and bear higher postal rates, but they are in no mood to grin and bear a larger postal deficit.

Paved With Gold

If there had been any doubt about federal grants as an incentive for state and local improvements, experience with the new interstate highway system would have cleared it up in a hurry.

By last June 30, the states had committed themselves to spend nearly two and a quarter billion dollars, more than half of it for highways to be eligible for federal grants. They already have applied to the Bureau of Public Roads for nearly 14,000 additional miles of interstate roads, in the hope of getting more federal money.

The problem is to hold down what is already the largest public works project in history. Fortunately, a lid was clamped down in advance by a provision in the 1956 law that highway construction cannot run ahead of the money in hand to pay for work performed. Construction is now in progress in every state but Nebraska, Delaware and W. Virginia.

Over a 13-year period, as envisioned by the backers of the Highway Act of 1956 when it was passed in 1956, more than 51 billion dollars will be spent by the federal government and the states for a 41,000-mile network of super-highways linking all major cities. The federal government was to pay 90 per cent of the cost.

Traffiteering

That electronic traffic brain which was demonstrated for Canton city officials the other day . . .

It makes you realize that traffiteering is becoming a science and, when it finally has found the answers, will make current methods of handling autos as obsolete as a left-hand gearshift lever on the running board.

Traffic will move in parallel lines in close quarters, a good deal like trains move, but with more automation than railroads have dreamed of so far.

The human element will be minimized in congested areas and on high-speed roads. All occupants of a car, including the driver, will trust themselves to fool-proof electronic devices to guide them to their destinations. The proverbial woman driver and the rube from the sticks will be no harder to cope with than the hot shot who has driven a million miles without bending a fender.

The secret will be electronic controls that will operate autos as well as traffic lights — devices that will make traffic as simple to control on highways as in railroad yards where everything is synchronized from a central point.

Balloon Test

An important point has been made against a proposal to outlaw drinking on airliners, one of the more controversial if less momentous questions before Congress this year.

The point is that passengers who are prone to drink too much would not undergo a change of heart about drinking if they were barred from doing it on airplanes by a federal regulation.

It has been made plain by witnesses against the proposal to bar the serving of drinks in planes that the principal problem is with the passenger who has had too much to drink before boarding the plane.

Perhaps the way to solve the problem is to make each passenger blow up a balloon before boarding the plane. The balloon would contain a substance that would become buoyant when exposed to alcohol. Presto, the passenger would be air-borne! There would be no more trouble with alcoholism in planes.

Anti-Communism Bill

By JAMES MARLOW

1954 Measure Proves Ineffective

WASHINGTON (AP)—Today is the third anniversary of a law which the government has treated like poison ivy. It's stayed away from it almost completely.

This law was passed at a time when Democrats and Republicans in Congress were trying to outdo each other in their anti-Communist fervor just before going home to face the voters in the 1954 elections.

This week a government lawyer, looking at a copy of the 1954 act on his desk, said: "From the way this law was put together, I think members of Congress must have written it on the back of match-boxes."

Congress started out that year with talk of outlawing the Communist party by making membership in it a crime. Realizing this might not stand up in court, the lawmakers wound up weaseling with a statement which merely said: "Therefore, the Communist party should be outlawed."

It sounded big but didn't mean anything because it didn't do any outlawing. This act of three years ago did attempt to say the party should be denied the "rights, privileges and immunities" enjoyed by legal organizations. In three years what rights, privileges and immunities has the party lost?

None, so far as this writer could find. For example: it was thought in 1954 the party might, under the new law, be denied the use of the mails for its newspaper, the Daily Worker.

But the Post Office has taken no action of any kind against the party. Nor could this writer find any other government agency which had taken action under the 1954 act with the exception—explained later—of the Justice Department.

And there's a reason: If the government used the 1954 act against the party it might get so tangled up with what it is trying to do to the party under a previous act, passed in 1950, that all its long efforts under the 1950 law might be wrecked.

In 1950 Congress passed the Communist Control Act, which called for forcing the party to register as a Russian agent and reveal its membership. In addition, the law imposed a whole series of prohibitions and penalties on party members.

Before any of those things could happen, these steps would have to be taken:

The government would have to charge the party—before the Subversive Activities Control Board—with being a Russian agent. (The government did.)

The SACB would have to hold hearings to let the party answer the charges. (The board did and the hearings lasted months.) Then the board would have to rule the party was truly a Moscow tool. (It did.)

Still nothing could happen until the party sought through appeals to the courts to get the ruling declared invalid and the act itself ruled unconstitutional. (The party carried its fight to the courts.)

This whole chain of events began seven years ago, shortly after the 1950 act was passed. The case has now been in the courts for years, and it may take more years before there is a final decision from the Supreme Court.

But if now, while the test of the 1950 act is pending, the government began doing some of the other things to the party called for by the 1954 act, the Communists might, and no doubt would do this:

They might try, by legal arguments about persecution, to get the courts to throw out all the government has been trying to do under the 1950 law.

The 1954 act in large part makes additions, or amendments, to the 1950 act. The government has thought it safe to use only one of them, one which lets it move against Communist-infiltrated unions.

The government has started action—also before the SACB—against two unions: the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America; and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

But—even there the government is in knots. Before anything comes of its case against the two unions, the courts will have to uphold what the SACB has already done under the 1950 act.

If the courts finally knock out the 1950 act, the SACB itself will be knocked out and anything it ruled now about the two unions mentioned above wouldn't count anyway.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

Women drivers are at a disadvantage when they forget that on the highway the age of chivalry never had a chance. Men do not let you go first because of your sex at intersections, darlings.

Because I can remember, when I was a clerk in a clothing store, that people used to do their heavy shopping in a small town on Saturday night, I am not surprised by the rediscovery of night-time shopping advantages.

I suspect others share my feeling of uneasiness about kids who are unusually bright, like those little freaks on TV, in spite of the fact most of us think bright kids are the hope of the world.

No one is likely to ask me about it, but if asked I would offer the opinion that most prices are high because price-setters are getting all the traffic will bear, not because they are covering costs of production.

Two women have a knack with the printed word that can roll me on the floor: Inez Robb and Cornelia Otis Skinner.

If there is such a thing as a dog psychiatrist, I want to know why the Irish setters at the Twillery are continually arranging themselves like book-ends.

I believe if congressmen knew how little attention was being paid to their efforts in Washington as the first session of No. 85 draws to a close, they would get out of Washington sooner than they are planning to leave.

Loose Grip on Life

Not too long ago some reporter in a big city began tabulating traffic violations he observed in his regular driving rounds. He collected a fantastic list in a short time.

Anyone can do the same, if he likes, when he's spinning along the open highway. Try it some day.

If you do, the chances are that the most noticeable flaw in driving technique will not be an offense punishable under the law but a mere act of carelessness. It most likely will be the failure of most motorists to grip the steering wheel properly.

In handling a modern automobile with its tremendous power and potential speed, constant control is clearly a vital key to safety. You must be able to manage the car in any developing road situation, no matter how critical.

This being so, it is absolutely astonishing to see how many drivers hold the wheel casually with one hand — or even a few fingers — while the other is draped out the window in some foolish attitude of relaxation suitable to a living room couch but not a speeding car.

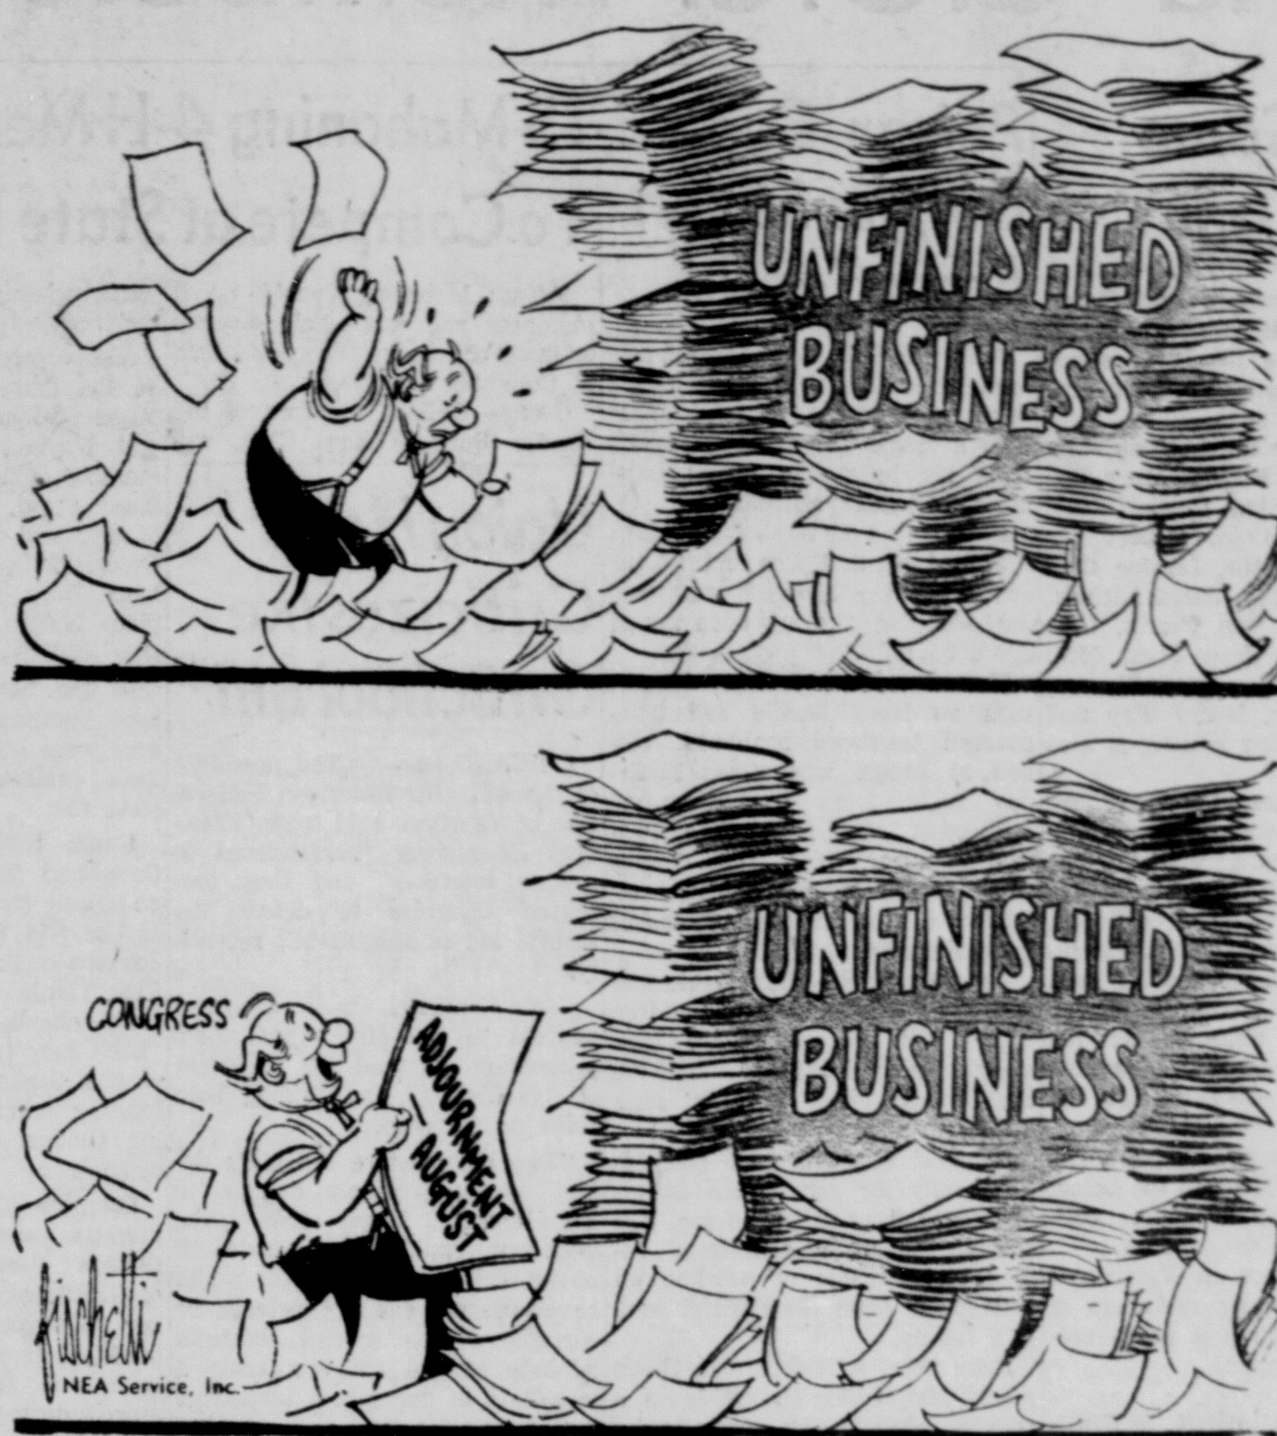

Cobalt, Canada, has a sidewalk "paved with silver." In truth, it is a sidewalk in which some silver ore was tossed into the wet concrete.

Congress Hampers Diplomats

By MARTIN S. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON

Sanctimonious tongue-clucking by Arkansas Sen. J. William Fulbright, and others, over diplomatic appointments for political fat cats has re-emphasized that it is Congress that makes it certain that career men cannot finance high ambassadorial costs, including free whisky for congressmen. Also, the latest furor has produced the revelation that impoverished England (which doesn't auction ambassadorships to political contributors) gives its Washington representative 60 per cent more than America allots its ambassador to London.

Sir Harold Caccia, her majesty's ambassador to Washington, gets a total of $102,872 a year. That includes salary, allowance for boarding school tuition for his children, a transfer allowance (equal to 10 per cent of the pay of a man with two children) to cover costs of moving to a new post and allotments for living and entertainment at his Massachusetts embassy.

IN LONDON, John Jay (Jock) Whitney, the new (and fortunately very rich) U.S. ambassador, has available a total of $60,404 a year: Pay of $27,500, a representation allowance (for official entertainment) of $12,000, a residence allowance (covering unusual household expenses) of $11,312 and an item of $9,592 that pays for chauffeurs, gardeners and janitors.

In total, the $60,404, sounds big when rolled around a congressional economy debate. That is particularly so when a congressman (for home front consumption) throws in that ambassadors wear striped pants, enjoy afternoon tea and cookies when red-blooded Americans are working, and use U.S. tax dollars to buy whisky for foreigners.

Dissected, the amount is not so big.

FOR EXAMPLE Sen. John J. Kennedy (D-Mass.), who has reason to know—his father, Joseph P. Kennedy was one of Franklin D. Roosevelt's millionaire ambassadors to London—noted at a foreign relations committee hearing that the whole of a London ambassador's "representation allowance" is gulped by one item: The annual 4th-of-July party.

"I really don't see," commented Kennedy, "why U.S. ambassadors should be obliged by custom to give a party for tourists and other Americans—two or three thousand of them—who come and eat up his whole allowance for a year. But I know that if he doesn't do it, visiting Americans feel he is terribly tight and difficult."

Kennedy might have added that the $12,000 allotted to top embassies in Paris, London and Rome (and lesser amounts for smaller posts) is supposed to cover all entertainment by the ambassador and his top staff members. Some ambassadors pro-rate it, others, particularly in small countries, spend it all on the one 4th-of-July affair; some of the rich ones give it all to their subordinates and foot their whole personal entertainment bill from their own pockets.

IT IS conservatively estimated that an ambassador like Clare Booth Luce who recently left Rome, Winthrop W. Aldrich who preceded Whitney in London or Douglas Dillon who recently finished in Paris, spends between $50,000 and $75,000 to personally finance the "honor" of representing his country abroad.

That goes for formal dinners a couple of times a week for a dozen or so top Italian, British or French officials; innumerable luncheons for Americans passing through; a flood of cocktail-time handouts and periodic big affairs when prestige requires that he rival the splendor of Russian and other competing entertainment.

"The more important the country," said one angry career man this week, "the more important visiting Americans come through and demand attention."

"Congressmen are the worst in taking it for granted that the food they eat, the wine they swallow and the extra bottles of whisky they mooch in whisky-less countries are all 'free.' They often don't even both to thank the ambassador or lesser career men who is getting stuck."

THE HEARING brought out that it is so rough that the career men in both London and Paris—Walworth Barbour and Charles W. Yost, who hold the rank of "ministers"—have requested transfers because they cannot afford the approximately $10,000-a-year they are having to pay out over and above their salary and allowances.

Figures show it is going to get worse instead of better. The State Department this year asked for $1,200,000 to cover the representation allowances. Congress cut it to $600,000, which is $200,000 less than last year's appropriation.

It was all done in economy's name by congressmen who also think it bad to designate rich businessmen for diplomatic "plums."

Glandular Fever

Mrs. L. and several other readers have asked for a discussion of glandular fever and particularly the outlook for recovery.

To answer the last question first, it can be said that most victims of this disorder recover after a few weeks, though often they feel "run down" for months after the acute illness has passed.

Once in a while there are serious complications and physicians are concerned that these serious results may become more frequent. However, it is still true that the majority recover completely without any obvious lasting effects.

Glandular fever is better known as infectious mononucleosis. It is a disease common among children and young grownups, though it does sometimes occur in later years. It is my impression that it is becoming more frequent, though why this should be the case—if it is—is hard to know.

There are several strange features about infectious mononucleosis. It is probably the result of an attack of a virus. It frequently offers some problems in diagnosis as its symptoms are not always alike, and its course may vary from an extremely mild illness to one which is incapacitating for a long time.

When it first begins, infectious mononucleosis may produce symptoms much like those of other conditions. Sore throat, loss of appetite, vague pains and general feeling of distress are common.

There is like to be a low fever. Symptoms such as nausea and vomiting, pain in the abdomen and nervous symptoms are by no means unusual.

Enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck and other parts of the body are frequent, giving the disease the name glandular fever.

However, the blood must be examined in order to clinch the diagnosis. The number of white cells in the blood generally is increased. When the blood is smeared on a glass slide, stained and examined under the microscope, it usually shows a peculiar type of cell which was once called a "monocyte," and which is responsible for the "mononucleosis" part of the name.

Except for these cells and a complicated special test of the blood called the heterophile antibody test, the symptoms of infectious mononucleosis may be like those of several other disorders. For this reason the diagnosis is often long delayed and sometimes is not made at all.

A thoroughly satisfying treatment for infectious mononucleosis has yet to be developed. Some of the antibiotics have received favorable notice, but their real value is debatable. Rest in bed and treatment of the symptoms is about all that can be agreed on so far.

Thoughts on Baseball

Big league baseball looks, more and more, not only like a business, but a transportation, relocation and general transfer business. The Braves, once a Boston institution, are in Milwaukee, the Philadelphia Athletics are in Kansas City and it is now certain that the N.Y. Giants and Brooklyn "Bums" have taken "California, Here I Come" as their theme song.

They will soon be as native to New York as the California orange.

There was some hope that a miracle might be passed to keep the Giants and Dodgers where they were born and bred, easing fears that the Brooklyn Bridge might be transferred to Las Vegas and Steeplechase Park shipped to Galveston. But the hope is dead.

WHILE BASEBALL'S tycoons are soberly declaring that baseball is not a business, two more clubs associated all their lives with the traditions of certain big cities are packing up to assure business expansion and the promotion of the profit motive.

Baseball fans all over the country should take notice and be ready for emergency renditions of "Perhaps it was right to dissemble my love, but why did you kick her downstairs?"

NEW YORK is probably at this moment one of the most melancholy cities on earth. Its sentiment is showing. For without the Giants and the "Bums," it just won't seem the same old place to natives.

The Giants have for generations been as much a part of the metropolitan picture as the Empire State Building, McGowan's Pass, the Statue of Liberty, the Staten Island ferry, Tammany Hall, Union Square's Park benches and the stories of O'Henry.

The Dodgers have been interwoven with the Flatbush rubber plant and Steve Brodie's jump.

FOR GENERATIONS the area has taken these clubs as harbingers of spring, outlets for summer emotions and reasons for winter arguments.

There was a time when John McGraw was a name better known there than Hendrik Hudson, Commodore Vanderbilt or Grover Whalen. "How did the Giants make out?" and "Who pitched for Brooklyn" were ice breakers in any conversation.

A mood close to love existed. Now they are as good as gone, not to an adjacent neighborhood but clear across a continent.

It is a journey as depressing to some fans as Eliza's trip across the ice pursued by bloodhounds. (The tragedy of it is that neither New York nor Brooklyn has a Bloodhound Commission or franchise through which to act.)

SO SENTIMENT takes a beating, civic pride gets the kidney punch and baseball tradition is beanballed by a pitcher known as "Slats" Mammion. With "Red" Midas warming up. And "Lefty" Cashbox catching.

Fair warning to all cities with big league ball clubs: It can happen to you. The club you lose may be your own.

NOW SKYSCRAPERS are being erected in a choice of colors. . . . A new 44-story building on the site of Carnegie Hall in New York will be in vermilion and gold.

This trend might be of value in identifications. . . . How about doing Madison Square Garden over in black and blue? With an all white building for Borden Milk and a red building for bankruptcy courts?

Maxwell Gluck, the much discussed envoy to Ceylon, is a Sharon, Pa., boy who came to Gotham as a youngster, opened a single women's dress shop while the depression was busting out all over and ran it into 139 stores and millions of dollars.

Salineville Residents Plan Fund Campaign

SALINEVILLE — A public meeting to plan a campaign and raise funds to fight against the erection of the two truss-type bridges here to replace the Blazy and Hunter Bridges has been called for Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Salineville High School.

Residents of the village have formed a citizens committee to fight the erection of the two bridge by the Ohio Bridge Co. of Cambridge, the firm which was awarded a $76,000 contract for the job by the Columbiana County commissioners.

Salineville citizens maintain they want low cement bridges to replace the present "eyesores" which cross Yellow Creek. Money from the funds campaign will be used to request state aid in obtaining the cement bridges.

Gen. Tewfik Nizam Eddin, 44, had requested retirement from the post of chief of staff which he assumed last year. He left without a struggle, apparently at the instigation of the leftist group.

Persons here familiar with the Syrian scene noted that Kuwaty and Nizam Eddin have been out of the country recently, leaving a free field for the leftist plotters. Kuwaty returned hurriedly two weeks ago from medical treatment in Switzerland at the time of a crisis in relations with Jordan. Nizam Eddin was with Acting Defense Minister Khaled el Azem on a trip to Moscow that resulted in a public agreement for Russian economic aid to Syria and, sources in Cairo said, a secret pact for more Soviet arms.

The economic agreement was officially reported Sunday to have won approval of the Syrian Cabinet and Parliament's Foreign Affairs Committee.

Milk

The dairies announced that consumers milk prices will go up a cent a quart, effective Tuesday. The new price of milk—23 cents a quart, home delivered—is still one of lowest of major cities in the U.S.

ODFBA called the strike at midnight Saturday when their demand for $5.50 a hundredweight was not met by dairies in Cleveland. A strike in Summit and Stark counties was called off by ODFBA when large farmers cooperatives announced Saturday in Canton and Akron that a price of $5.52 had been negotiated.

The strike — withholding milk from market—had a varied effect in Cleveland. Small dairies reported they received no milk while some larger dairies said deliveries were about 95 per cent of normal.

Ashtabula County moved virtually no milk to market while other counties reported a normal situation.

Joe N. Brown, ODFBA president, hailed the settlement as a victory for dairy farmers in north-eastern Ohio. The larger dairies refused to negotiate with the ODFBA preferring discussions with the long-established and larger cooperatives like MPF. The striking group represented an estimated 15 per cent of farmers in the market.

The price increase to farmers will give them an additional $450,000 monthly over the return under the Federal Milk Marketing Order in Cleveland. The milk order price for August was expected to be about $4.60.

2 Planes Hit Near Boardman; 3 Hurt

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Two private airplanes collided and plunged 150 feet to the runway of the Southern Airways Airport at nearby Boardman Sunday. Two of the three persons aboard the planes escaped serious injury.

The pilot of one plane, Charles Anderson, 33, of Cleveland, was reported in fair condition at Southside Hospital here with severe head cuts.

Eldon Weaver, 30, of Canfield, and James Sloan, 45, of Niles, received minor injuries. Sloan, a student pilot, was practicing landings when the landing gear of his plane collided with Anderson's aircraft. Both planes were badly damaged.

Names of 200 Countians Drawn for Jury Duty

LISBON — The names of two hundred countians were picked from the jury wheel this morning as prospective jurors for the September term of court.

From the 200 names drawn, 15 will be earmarked for grand jury duty and the other people will be called for petit jury duty after the grand jury meets.

Names were picked by commissioners Thomas Abraham of East Liverpool and James Gregg of Salem, a representative of the clerk's office and sheriff's office and a court stenographer.

O'Hara Libel Case May Hinge on Time

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The month in which a trial witness says Maureen O'Hara and a Latin lover cuddled at a Hollywood theater loomed today as a major battle point in the libel trial of Confidential magazine.

The red-haired actress, who previously denied the story, issued a statement Saturday saying she was not even in the United States at the time the witness said it happened—November 1953.

Her attorney Guy E. Ward said that as a result of the testimony Miss O'Hara will raise the damages sought in her own libel action against the magazine from one million to five million dollars.

The magazine's criminal libel trial resumes today in Superior Court.

County School System Needs Seven Teachers

LISBON — The Columbiana County school system still needs seven teachers, according to County Supt. James L. McBride.

The following teachers are needed: Two lower-grade teachers at West Point; one home economics and one English teacher at United Local School; two middle-grade teachers at Yellow Creek and a fourth-grade teacher at West Local.

McBride said any teacher wishing a position in the Columbiana County School System should contact him at once. The county schools will open Sept. 3.

Ohio Woman Dies in Flaming Truck Cab

NEW BERLIN, Ill. (AP)—An Ohio woman perished in the flaming cabin of her husband's semi-trailer truck when it overturned and caught fire Sunday night after colliding with another semi-trailer.

Both truck drivers were seriously burned. They were reported in critical condition in St. John's Hospital in nearby Springfield.

Fatally burned was Mrs. Ira Taylor, 37, of Overton, Ohio, Wayne County. She was riding with her husband in a semi-trailer loaded with automobile accessories. Taylor, 47, was believed headed for the Fayette Mfg. Co. headquarters in Lafayette, Ohio.

The second truck was driven by John G. Hess, 26, of Springfield.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Rackets Committee, in denouncing what he called the "bogus charters," told newsmen the evidence showed "there was a conspiracy to procure and make use of these charters for fraudulent purposes and unworthy objectives."

He said it also showed the charters were issued to gangsters, criminals and racketeers both for rigging the joint council election and to serve hoodlums "as a kind of hunting license to prey on legitimate businesses and honest working people and union members."

4 Little League Teams To Vie in World Series

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—The Little League championships boiled down to four teams today.

Left in the running were four regional champions determined on the basis of weekend competition. They are La Mesa, Calif.; Escanaba, Mich.; Monterrey, Mexico, and Bridgeport, Conn.

They defeated opponents in regional playoffs, the final step before the world series itself at Williamsport next Thursday.

4 Fishing Boats Capsize

MANILA (AP)—Strong gales capsize four fishing boats off the western coast of Luzon Sunday. Eight fishermen were reported missing and feared drowned, the Philippine constabulary reported.

Mrs. William Rufus McDorman

Riehl-McDorman Vows Said In Locust Grove Church

At a candle light service in Locust Grove Baptist Church Saturday at 8:00 p.m., Carolyn Mae Riehl and William Rufus McDorman were married with the Rev. Frederick McKnight officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Riehl of Western Reserve Road, Canfield, and the bridegroom is a son of R. N. McDorman of Canfield and Mrs. Robert Frood of Detroit, Mich.

Tapers in seven-branch candelabra lighted the chancel which was decorated with white gladioli, blue bueidiea and palms. White glad flets tied with white satin bows marked the pews.

Miss Janet Miller of North Jackson sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Through the Years" and "Because." Mrs. Robert Withers of Beloit was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length gown was fashioned of silk bombazine. The elongated bodice with long pointed sleeves featured a slightly scooped neckline edged with tiny scallops enhanced with hand clipped lace and sequins. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train.

Her silk illusion veil was attached to a lace pill box covered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white carnations, blue bueidiea and stephanotis.

Miss J. Gordon Riehl of Wellston, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor; Mrs. John W. Marshall of Canfield, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid; and Miss Joyce E. Scott of Columbiana, a niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaid wore identical waltz length gowns of flock dot nylon organdy in cotton blue over blue taffeta. The fitted bodices and full skirts were trimmed with blue criss cross cummerbunds ending in bustle bows. The junior bridesmaid's dress of white flock dot nylon was trimmed with a cummerbund and bow of cotton blue. Each attendant carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white carnations and wore a matching blue bandeaux.

Harold McDorman of Greenford was his brother's best man. John W. Marshall of Canfield, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, J. Gordon Riehl of Wellston and Jay S. Riehl of Garfield, brothers of the bride, ushered.

The bride's mother was attired in navy blue crepe with dusty rose and navy accessories and a white

Auxiliary Names Officers At Sebring Country Club

The Women's Auxiliary of the Sebring Country Club held a business meeting Thursday and elected officers.

The newly-elected officers are: President, Mrs. John Fahnert of Sebring; vice president, Mrs. Robert McElfresh of Alliance; secretary, Mrs. Gail Williams of Sebring; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Aikenhead of Sebring. Golf winners of low puts were:

Flight A. Mrs. Arthur Vogt; and Flight B. Mrs. Richard Ehrhart of Salem.

In contract bridge games, awards went to Mrs. A. F. Boehm and Mrs. Fahnert.

The luncheon committee was comprised of Mrs. Daniel Yoho of Berlin Center, chairman; Mrs. Howard Hinst of Alliance; Mrs. Gene Brown of North Benton; Mrs. Richard Obenaus of Berlin Center and Mrs. Leonard Spencer of Beloit.

Winona Gives Brantinghams Farewell

As a farewell courtesy to Rev. and Mrs. Paul Brantingham and family, a community reception was held Friday evening at the Winona Friends Church.

Rev. Brantingham, who has been pastor of the Friends Church for five years, has accepted a call to the Tecumseh, Mich., Friends Church. He will assume his duties there Sept. 1.

Rev. Edgar Phelps, who has been pastor of the Friends Church at Barbenton the past ten years, will succeed Rev. Brantingham.

More than 160 relatives and friends from this area participated in the affair, which featured a program under the direction of Mrs. Norman Sturgeon and Mrs. Earl Ruble, co-chairmen.

Mrs. Sturgeon directed the congregational singing, and Mrs. Ruble announced the program. Miss Helen Noling conducted devotions, and Rev. Larkin Hadley gave the prayer.

Carl Gamble, Edward Geary, and Dawson Irey representing the Sunday School Christian Endeavor and the church, respectively, gave brief talks expressing appreciation of the work done by the Brantinghams. Misses Norma and Patricia Sell sang a duet, "When Dreams Come True." Thomas Althouse played a trombone solo, "The Holy City." Mrs. Maynard Brantingham was accompanist for the program, which concluded with a selection by a men's chorus and two numbers by a kitchen band.

The honorees were presented a beautiful chair and a check for $100 from the church and community. The presentation was made by Mr. Irey, who is monthly meeting clerk.

Following the program, refreshments were served in the social room. The table was centered with a decorated cake on which the names Paul and Ellen were inscribed. Greenery enhanced the lace-covered table.

Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. Sherman Brantingham and family of Portsmouth, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin McClintock of Gates Mills.

Rev. Brantingham's son, John, is pastor of the Milan, O., Friends Church. Another son, Robert, is a student at Ohio State University, while two other sons, David and James, are enrolled in Malone College. David and James have been singing with the Malone College Quartet this summer. Benny will be a freshman in high school this fall. Samuel and Paula are pre-school age.

The business session was conducted by the retiring officers: President, Jay Denny; vice president, Jay Bricker; and secretary-treasurer, Judy Bott.

Mrs. Allen Lockhart

Beverly Ann Ruggles Weds Allen Lockhart on Sunday

The sanctuary of the East Goshen Friends Church was the setting for the Sunday afternoon wedding of Miss Beverly Ann Ruggles and Allen Lockhart.

The double ring ceremony was performed before the altar banked with palms, two baskets of white mums and twin seven-branch candelabra.

Rev. Ralph Blackburn officiated at the service which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Ruggles of RD 2, Berlin Center, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lockhart of RD 1, Beloit.

Mrs. Robert Withers of Beloit was organist, and accompanied Miss Barbara Ruggles, sister of the bride, who sang, "Because," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "My Hero" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Ruggles escorted his daughter to the altar. The brides formed a gown of Chantilly lace over satin was fashioned with a portrait neckline. Self-covered buttons extended down the back of the molded bodice and closed the long tapered sleeves. The full skirt was worn over hoops.

Handclipped applied lace trimmed her fingertip veil of silk illusion which was attached to a circlet of white satin leaves, tiny velvet flowers and seed pearls. She carried her Nurse's Bible, topped with an arrangement of white mums, a white orchid and ribbon streamers.

Miss Brenda Ruggles, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her pale blue organdy gown was accented with a dark blue cummerbund. A circlet of matching taffeta leaves held her circular veil. She carried a pink ring decorated with white mums, lilies of the valley and pink streamers.

Miss Reta Myers of Peirpont, O., and Mrs. James Harrigan of Salem were bridesmaids, and Misses Nancy Lockhart, niece of the bridegroom, and Kathy Tomkinson, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

Their pink organdy gowns and beadedresses were made identical to the maid of honor's. White mums and lilies of the valley decorated the blue rings which they carried.

Serving his brother as best man was Fred Lockhart of Sebring. The ushers were Royce Kump of Lima, cousin of the bridegroom, and Bruce Ruggles of Berlin Center, brother of the bride.

An aqua lace sheath and white accessories were worn by Mrs. Ruggles. Mrs. Lockhart chose a dusty rose lace dress with matching accessories. Both wore white pompon corsages.

Reception Follows

A reception followed at Smith Grange Hall. A pink and white color theme prevailed. A white arbor was featured behind the brides table. Pink roses and wedding bells topped the four-tiered wedding cake. White mums and lighted tapers added to the table appointments.

Mrs. Richard Hahlen and Mrs. Albert Geller cut the cake. Others serving were Miss Carol Lockhart, Mrs. Fred Lockhart, Mrs. Edward Grenga, Mrs. Herman Meier and Mrs. William Tomkinson.

The 175 guests from Salem, Alliance, Berlin Center, Lima, Akron, Canton and Sharon were registered by Miss Dianne Tomkinson, cousin of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Goshen High School and attended Youngstown University. She will be graduated from Youngstown Hospital School of Nursing in September.

A graduate of Sebring McKinley High School, the bridegroom is employed as a draftsman by the R. W. Ball and Associates, engineers, at Mount Union.

Mrs. Lockhart chose a beige print silk sheath with beige accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet for traveling.

When the couple return from a tour of the Western states, they will reside on Route 62.

The couple presented gifts to their attendants at the rehearsal party at the bridegroom's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGee and daughter, Helen of Salem are vacationing in Michigan and will spend a week with Mr. McGee's brothers in Detroit.

Miss DeJane Feted At Shower Parties

Miss Sandra DeJane, bride-elect of Eddie Linger, was feted at two pre-nuptial courtesies during the week.

Sunday evening Miss Betsy Rice of E. 5th St. entertained 12 former classmates at a personal shower in honor of Miss DeJane.

Miss Barbara Shepherd received the game honors.

A vase of summer flowers graced the refreshment table. Each place was marked with a small package of rice.

Mrs. Pat Riley of 637 S. Union Ave. entertained 17 relatives and friends Wednesday evening. Mrs. Gene DeJane and Mrs. Walter DeJane assisted the hostess.

The miscellaneous gifts were placed in a large basket decorated in blue and yellow. The buffet table was centered with a bouquet of flowers.

Mrs. Robert Sell will entertain the bridal party at a spinster dinner party Wednesday evening.

The couple will be married at 2 p.m. Aug. 24 in the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Beery Hostess To Farr Class

Mrs. Claude Levers of New York was an honored guest at a meeting of the Farr Class of the First Christian Church recently. Mrs. L. E. Beery of the Ellsworth Road was hostess. Mrs. Levers is a former teacher of the class.

A social time was enjoyed, and refreshments were served by Mrs. William Shaffer and Mrs. Clyde Paxson.

The Sept. 24 meeting will be at the church. Mrs. Phillip Rhodes and Mrs. Mary Cline will serve as hostesses.

66 Attend Arbogast Family Reunion Sunday

Sixty six persons attended the 11th annual reunion of Arbogast family descendants which was an event of Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spack Sr. of the Depot Road.

Included among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nesbit Bertram and family of Tampa, Fla.

Wed in W. Virginia

Businessmen's Opinions Vary on Economic Outlook

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen appear to be as divided as stock market operators and government and banking economists on the prospects for a boom this fall.

A survey of 205 industrial corporations today shows the majority of their top men still optimistic but also reveals a growing minority that now looks for a downturn in production and sales — and especially in profits.

A similar taking of the consumer pulse recently also showed uneasiness spreading among those with the final say-so as to which way the economy will go. Consumers this summer are less confident than they were last winter that good times will go on forever.

Greenford Club Annual Dinner Set

GREENFORD — Larry and Gary Blasiman have returned to their home in Marlboro after spending a week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown.

The daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sulist has been named Diane Elizabeth.

Mrs. J. F. Reed was hostess last Thursday afternoon to members of the Home Circle Club. It was decided to hold the annual summer party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hendricks this Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conkle are erecting a new home at the corner of the Beaver Lake and Pine Lake Road.

Wayne Brown has been honorably discharged after serving in the Navy for two years. A friend, Roy Nelson from Tacoma, Wash., accompanied him home.

MISS VESTA AND JERRY KINDIG visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Kindig Tuesday evening. Mrs. Fred Lincoln and daughter Susan of Saginaw are also visiting in the Kindig home.

Jay Seple, who had been hospitalized, is able to be about his home.

Rev. Arvid E. Kuitunen attended a conference at Wittenberg College last week where he served as an interpreter to the many foreign delegates that attended.

Umbrella Maker Claims Car Hurts Business

CINCINNATI (AP) — A New Jersey umbrella maker says the automobile is folding up the umbrella business.

Irving Hollander, president of F. Hollander & Son, Inc., told a reporter Sunday that American males now consider a car their umbrella.

He said, "Whoever thinks about taking a walk nowadays? They jump in the car and go for a ride."

Hollander, an exhibitor at the Tri-State Food Market Operators Conference which started Sunday, said he is trying to interest grocers in his wares because umbrellas are an "impulse item" for women.

He said, "Get a woman in a grocery store with a little extra money and you can sell her almost anything if it looks good and the price is right."

It reports today that the majority are optimistic, expecting new orders and dollar sales to increase, planning to boost their rates of production, and hoping for larger before-tax profits.

The board — a nonprofit organization doing research in the field of economics and business — finds more than half of the 205 firms looking for larger dollar value of new orders this fall than last and a bit less than half expecting more new orders than in the first half of this year.

Two out of three think dollar sales will be higher than a year ago and a half expect an increase this fall over last spring. But many note that price increases will make most of the difference.

Better profits before taxes are anticipated by 53 per cent; smaller profits by 23 per cent; and a continuation of first half 1957 levels by 24 per cent.

It's Wise to Know Something About Electricity In Home

Unless you check with your local authorities, you never can be quite sure how much electrical work you can do around your home. The regulations are made, of course, for your own safety. But regulations or not, it's a good idea to know something about the electricity in your house, even if you never expect to do anything more useful in that line than changing a fuse.

Speaking of changing a fuse, the important point in that simple operation is to use a replacement of the same amperage. A fuse protects an electrical circuit. If it blows out, it means that the circuit is overloaded or there is a break in the line. If the fuse did not blow out, overheated wires would result in a fire. When a fuse is rated at 5 amperes, it means, generally speaking, that it will carry a certain load of electricity before it gives way. If you put in a new fuse that is rated higher, it will carry a heavier load all right — but the protection will disappear.

THE LESSON: WHEN a fuse blows out, always replace it with a fuse of the same amperage. And since you know it blew out for a reason, find out what the reason is. Did you have too many appliances connected to one circuit? Or is there a break in one of the extension or appliance cords?

It used to be considered a smart idea to use a penny as a substitute for a fuse when a new one was not immediately available. Since a penny gives no protection to the circuit at all, lots of fires started that way. Although fire authorities have warned of this danger for years, investigations have shown that some householders still use pennies in place of blown fuses. By keeping a few extra fuses on hand at all times, there never will be any temptation to use a penny or any other substitute.

MANY NEWER HOUSES use circuit breakers instead of fuses, in which case a switch or lever is thrown to restore the flow of electricity. Also, there are several new types of fuses on the market, one of which calls for pushing a button, another for making a little adjustment which enables the fuse to be used several times before it becomes useless.

Don't use wiring for purposes for which it is not intended. A lamp cord is perfectly safe when used as a lamp cord, dangerous when used as an appliance cord. Extension cords are useful, but are not to be used as permanent replacements for additional receptacle outlets. In doing any outdoor wiring, be sure to use weatherproof wiring and outlets.

DON'T IMMERSE ELECTRIC toasters or other appliances with heating elements in water. Power tools, washing machines and similar heavy-duty apparatus must be grounded. Prompt attention to frayed electrical cords will avoid short circuits. When there is a possibility of small child pulling put a plug and poking something into the outlet, use the type of safety plug that cannot be removed by a child.

THE AVERAGE HOUSE circuit, which carries a 15-amp fuse, has a maximum capacity of 1,650 watts. All the fixtures and appliances attached to that particular circuit should not total more than 1,650 watts. Any appliance with an Underwriters Laboratory label on it has the wattage stamped on the name plate, so you can figure out yourself whether the line is overloaded.

Keeping electricity under control may be a little trouble, but it's a small price to pay for safety.

CONVENIENCE AND SMOOTH TRAFFIC FLOW are outstanding features of this one-story home. The front entrance provides a convenient approach to all areas of the house while the breakfast nook has breezeway access, another step-saving feature. None of the rooms loses its main function as living space by becoming a passageway. Design covers 1,343 square feet, not including garage. It is plan H25AP493 by Homograf Co., architects, 11711 East Eight Mile Rd., East Detroit, Mich.

Home Repair Dos and Don'ts

GYPSUM WALLBOARD

DO . . . know that, while gypsum wallboard is known by a variety of names, it's the material you want if it's prefabricated plaster covered on both sides with a tough paper.

DO . . . cut gypsum wallboard by placing it on a horizontal surface, scribing a line with a sharp knife, then snapping down the overhanging part much as you do when breaking glass along a scored mark.

DO . . . in nailing panels to studs, leave a small space between them and fill that space with perforated tape and cement made especially for the purpose.

DO . . . when the cement has dried, sandpaper all rough spots before painting or applying wall-paper.

DON'T . . . make the common mistake of applying too much cement between the joints; it should be put on carefully in thin coats, so that the surface is built up gradually.

DON'T . . . use a nailset to drive nails below the surface of the wallboard. Allow the hammer head on it has the wattage stamped on the name plate, so you can figure out yourself whether the line is overloaded.

DON'T . . . try to maneuver large panels of wallboard for use on a ceiling unless (1) you have someone to help you or (2) you have a special jig which will hold the material in place while you attach it.

DON'T . . . overlook special types of gypsum wallboard, some of which come in 16-inch widths and are applied with an adhesive and some of which have a pre-finished covering, such as simulated knotty pine.

STICKING WINDOWS
DO . . . know that the most common cause of a sticking window is hardened paint in one or more of the grooves in which the window sash is set.

DO . . . if at all possible, attack the window from the outside, inserting a putty knife, floor chisel or any thin-bladed tool under the sash and exerting moderate pressure.

DO . . . when this fails, do the same thing between the sash and the frame at the sides, both inside and outside, tapping the knife handle lightly with a mallet if necessary.

DO . . . on the rare occasions when neither of these methods works, place a small block of wood against part of the sash, tap lightly with a mallet, move it a few inches, tap lightly again, and continue until the sash is worked loose.

DON'T . . . forget that, when warping or swelling is at fault, the sash must be removed (by first taking off the moulding) and the excess wood sanded off.

DON'T . . . sand off too much wood or the window may rattle at some later time when the wood contracts.

DON'T . . . use a screwdriver in trying to break the paint seal holding a stuck window in place or you will leave conspicuous marks on both the sash and the frame.

DON'T . . . neglect, after getting the window moving again, to lubricate both the channel and the sides of the sash.

Home Owners' Question Box

Q — I am planning to varnish some cabinets. How can I avoid a lot of rubbing and polishing to remove the air bubbles that will form on the surfaces?

A — Try thinning the varnish with one part turpentine to five parts varnish. Then stir it — don't shake it — for 10 to 15 minutes. Let it stand for 24 hours to allow the varnish and turpentine to completely flow together. After this, the varnish should flow on without air bubbles.

Q — How can I keep screws from coming loose and popping out of soft wood from the weight of the fixtures I've attached to the wood?

A — Make small starter holes and fill them with thick glue. The screws will then force the glue into the surrounding wood fibers and voids, giving the wood increased hardness and resistance to screw pull-outs.

Q — The room we're planning to add to our home will have a roof that is almost flat. The house was recently reroofed with asphalt shingles. Can we use asphalt shingles on the addition?

A — Asphalt shingles can be applied to roofs that slope as little as two inches per horizontal foot. A new technique makes use of special precautions that protect the roof against leaks which might otherwise develop because of the relatively low pitch. Before starting, on your guest room, check with your roofing contractor to make sure your plans call for a roof with at least the minimum two-inch slope.

Q — My wife and I often have admired the panel doors we have seen used in television plays. How can we obtain doors like these for our home?

A — Television set designers use many panel doors of ponderosa pine in their sets because of the three-dimensional effect of paneling. Usually these doors are of a standard design that can be obtained from the local lumber dealer. Pine panel doors are popular with home owners because of their natural beauty, the ease with which they can be painted and their resistance to warping.

Keep Setting In Mind When Choosing Outdoor Furniture

Outdoor living requires special decor.

The sky is your ceiling, the lawn your carpet, the flowers lend motif just as your wallpaper does inside. These things should be kept in mind when you choose outdoor furniture if you want to make an impression as an amateur decorator.

An outdoor deck built of redwood for instance, will require different accessories than a flagstone terrace setting. The lawn may be flattered by more colorful furniture than that used on a screened-in porch.

Some people add to their outdoor furniture throughout the summer, and if purchased at sales, often these pieces do not match accessories they've been using.

AN OPEN WOOD deck looks better furnished in rugged pieces — inexpensive Adirondack-type chairs or redwood accessories — sawbuck tables, benches, chaises. The screened porch may be highlighted by wicker and rattan. A covered terrace may use white yachting chairs, a variety of metals including brass and wrought iron.

We get colorful on the lawn where nature has provided brilliant greenery and floral hues. Ditto at the beach where sand and sky combine to invite color on to the terrace. New outdoor umbrellas and furniture so at home in these areas require less care than formerly. New weatherproof nylonite, a lamination of nylon and vinyl plastic, resists brilliant sunshine, and summer heat, keeping cushions and fabric cool. It may be wiped clean with a damp cloth, is resilient and resists cracking, mildew, peeling and soiling.

THE FABRIC AVAILABLE in upholstery for casual furniture, circular umbrella table cloths and cushions is in vibrant floral patterns, metallic prints, solid colors and textured effects.

When entertaining outdoors where the more colorful hues are used, you must take into consideration your menu. Food is important to your accessories. A garish ensemble in umbrella and table cloth, plus jazzed up foods, may take away the appetite of your guests. Nothing will deaden the appetite faster than lukewarm

"iced" tea. Sure the pitcher may be pretty, but what good is it if the lemonade is warm. Keep iced beverages cool by bringing the ice bucket to the table.

SERVE SALAD as chefs do — on a bed of ice using two bowls, one inside the other.

Steak should be served hot — as soon as cooked or on a warming appliance. Thermo trays will keep first cooked foods at a perfect 200 degrees while the meat broils. If you have an electric outlet you may use the thermo tray conveniently in the garden as well as on the screened-in porch, patio or open deck.

Shabby Roof Spoils Effect Of New Paint

Cast a critical eye at the appearance of your roof before you paint your house.

This is the advice of New York color stylist Beatrice West, who says: "Putting a new coat of paint on a house with a shabby, worn-out roof is like wearing a fur coat and diamonds with dungarees. They just don't go together."

Miss West, who color-styles thousands of new and remodeled homes every year, says she always examines the roof of a house first before deciding on a color scheme because:

"Nothing spoils the appearance of an attractive home more than a weather-beaten roof. This is especially true when a house has been freshly painted. The new paint actually accentuates the shabbiness of the roof."

If the roof of a house shows signs of wearing out, Miss West says, she usually recommends a new roof of asphalt shingles in a color which will provide a basic shade for other colors on siding, trim, and accent spots.

"As for added cost," Miss West says, "I explain that when a roof begins to look worn, chances are it will no longer be serviceable in a year or two. The family will have to reroof then, anyway."

and they might as well do it now and enjoy a completely color-styled house instead of doing the job only halfway."

The many colors available in asphalt shingles are a big help to color stylists, Miss West says. "For example, by choosing a roof of blended green with a fleck of yellow in it, I can pick up the yellow for accent color on doors, window boxes and shutters, while the trim and windows can be painted in a harmonizing green."

Another trick with roof color, Miss West adds, "makes houses look taller or longer and lower. You simply reroof a tall, awkward looking house with a deep, dark color and it appears lower. The opposite is true of a small house that seems to be built too close to the ground. Light-color roofing gives it a lift, making it seem taller and larger."

Wood Timbers Hale And Hearty at 158

Things wouldn't look quite the same to President Madison if he returned to the nation's capital today, but one thing would be — the timber floor joists in the old Octagon building, erected in 1798.

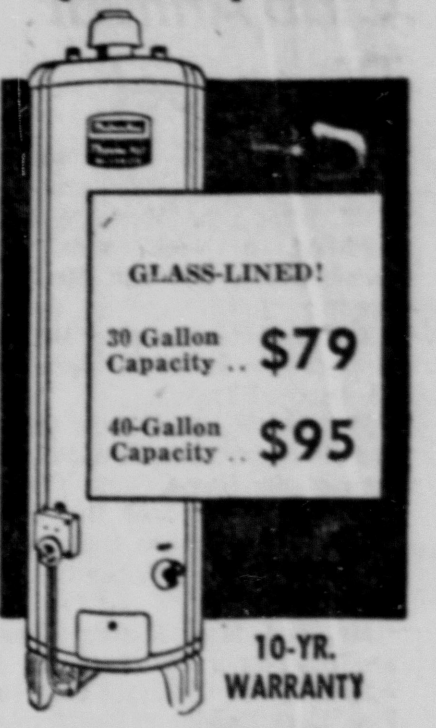

Researchers of the United States Department of Agriculture's Forest Products Laboratory recently tested samples of the wood, installed when the structure was built.

They reported the strength of the joists differed little from what might be expected of similar newly cut timbers. There was no sign of decay.

The Octagon building is historically famous as the residence of President Madison after the White House was burned by the British during the war of 1812.

Art Myers Hurls 3 Straight Wins

Hanoverton Nipped By Old Dutch 3-2

Art Myers of Collen's Dairy pitched iron-man softball over the weekend as he pitched his team to three straight victories, beating Westville 1-0, Salem Drive-In 3-2, and Bloomberg's 9-8, the number one, two and three teams respectively.

Myers started his feat Saturday night, twirling 13 innings in edging Bloomberg's in the longest game played at Kelley Park this season.

He then came back Sunday evening at Kelley Park to pitch both ends of a twin bill, going eight innings in a game against Westville, and seven in a battle with the Salem Drive-In batters. This gave him a total of 28 innings pitched in 24 hours.

His teammates gave him solid backing defensively as they committed just three errors during the long stretch. In the last 25 2-3 innings they have played flawlessly.

In other contests played Sunday at Kelley, Old Dutch nipped Hanoverton 3-2 in 10 frames, Eljer clipped Lincoln 7-2 and Hendron's shut out Herron's 2-0.

In Saturday's game, Collen's deadlocked 8-8 with Bloomberg's in the bottom of the 13th frame in an exciting ball game as many spectators would want to see, finally broke through with the winning run with two men out.

The game saw Bloomberg's take an early four-run lead and lose it in the middle innings. The losers rallied to tie the game in the top of the seventh and send it into extra frames.

In the next five cantos, both teams were only able to tally one run apiece until the last half of the 13th. Collen's J. Moulins walked and went to second on a wild pitch, D. Moulins fled out to right field and B. Moulins singled to center, but Ronnie Stanley, on a perfect throw to the catcher, tagged out J. Moulins trying to score. B. Moulins then stole second and, with two men down, Shook slapped a game-winning double inside the first base line and B. Moulins scored.

In Sunday's opening game of their double bill, Collen's and Westville went the first seven innings with neither team scoring. It was a tough game for Downey of Westville to lose. He twirled a no-hitter for the first seven frames while Myers scattered five bingles.

The only run of the game came in the bottom of eight as Keefe rolled out first baseman to the second baseman covering first. Harbert and Myers walked and Nutt reached on catcher's interference, leading the bases. J. Moulins blooped a single into right field, scoring Harbert to end the game.

In the second canto, Collen's grabbed an early lead and held on to win despite the Salem Drive-In's seventh inning rally.

Collen's led 2-1 going into the bottom of the third and at this point scored what was to be the winning run.

L. Moulins walked and J. Moulins got an infield hit, D. Moulins sacrificed the runners up another base and Pizzica fled out to left. L. Moulins tagged up and scored after the catch. B. Moulins popped to first.

Old Dutch had to extend itself as the last-place Hanoverton club fought tooth and comb right down to the wire in a contest that went ten innings.

The winning markers were scored in the top of the tenth. Moore rolled out short to first and Haidet walked, Grimes singled to left, Haidet tagged to third and scoring on an error. Roesti singled to short, scoring Grimes from third and Vizzuso popped to short. Allenbaugh rolled out third to first.

Hendron's, behind the three-hit pitching of Dave Ehrhart, blanked the Herron squad who was unable to get a threat started.

The winning tallies were scored in the fifth and sixth frames. Baisley opened the fifth with a double. W. Hahn bunted safely, Wyss fouled to left and Blasley tagged up and scored. Ehrhart bunted and W. Hahn was cut off at home. Duco popped to short.

The final run was scored in the top of the sixth. Stille grounded out third to first and Barnes beat out an infield hit. Boughton forced Barnes at second and Cibula singled to center. Baisley beat out a hit, scoring Boughton and W. Hahn fled to left.

Eljer scored five tallies in the first three innings and then coasted to victory. The winners' big inning was the third when they scored three runs.

H. Miller lined a double to left. Odorizzi lined a single to left to score H. Miller and went to second on the throw to the plate. Peppel grounded out pitcher to first, with Odorizzi taking third. Patterson grounded out second to first, and J. Miller hit an inside-the-park homerun. P. Miller fled to left.

Anderson, Ind. Youth Wins Soapbox Derby

AKRON, Ohio. (AP) — For the second time in the 20-year history of the All America Soapbox Derby, the champion is from Anderson, Ind.

A crowd of 70,000 watched Sunday as a blue and white car driven by 15-year-old Terry Townsend flashed to a length-and-a-half victory in the championship heat.

Another Anderson boy, Maurice Bale Jr., now a farmer, took home the grand championship in 1935.

Terry's racer covered the 975.4-foot distance down the dark green concrete runway at Derby Downs in 27.18 seconds, an average of over 24 miles an hour.

"I just prayed," the freckle faced, dark haired Terry said when asked if he carried any good luck charms on his race to the championship. He said he hasn't made up his mind which college he will attend on the first prize of a $5,000 scholarship.

David Hakman, 15, of Los Angeles won a $4,000 scholarship for his second-place finish. He hit a guard rail in a preliminary race and had to repair his steering cable for the final run.

A Canadian boy, Andy Vasko of St. Catharines Ont., finished third. That was the best finish ever recorded by a contestant from outside the United States. He won a $3,000 scholarship.

Athletics Battered by Indians 9-2

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kerby Farrell, manager of the Cleveland Indians, has been forced to rely on his relief pitching staff for starting hurlers as sickness and injuries sidelined Herb Score, Bob Lemon and Early Wynn.

Three relievers came out of the bullpen and proved they could complete a game and win.

Don Mossi and Ray Narleski.

The latest reliever to go all the way in an Indians' game was Calvin Coolidge McLish who turned in an impressive six-hit performance as the tribe defeated Kansas City 9-2 Sunday.

Narleski was scheduled to start against the A's but he developed a strained elbow. McLish was picked for the emergency assignment and responded by striking out six batters and walking two for his sixth victory of the season.

A two-out double by Hal Smith in the fourth inning brought home the only two Kansas City runs.

The Indians battered five A's pitchers for a total of 11 hits and staked McLish to a five-run lead in the second inning.

Arnold Portocarrero, who started and lost for Kansas City, was forced out of the game in the Indians' big second inning. After Rocky Colavito and Bobby Avila walked, Joe Altobelli and Chico Carrasquel singled, scoring two runs.

Rip Coleman came in relief for the A's and got Russ Nixon to bounce a ground ball to the mound. Coleman fielded the ball and threw to Hal Smith at home.

Smith tagged Altobelli, who came in from third base, but dropped the ball for an error. Altobelli scored.

After McLish bunted safely to fill the bases and Roger Maris singled, scoring Nixon, Maury McDermott was called into relieve Coleman. McDermott escaped without further damage.

The Tribe tallied two more in the fourth. McLish walked and Al Smith singled. Both runners advanced on Maris' sacrifice and scored.

Left-hander Joe Nuxhall, who started for Cincinnati, was rooted in the fifth inning when the Cubs' offensive boiled over with four runs for a 6-2 lead.

Bob Adams started the Cubs rally with a walk and Bob Speake followed with a pop fly that Gus Bell muffed. Lee Walls promptly followed with a two-run double and Ernie Banks finished Nuxhall's stint with a home run.

Nuxhall had started the Reds' scoring with a walk and galloped home on Smokey Burgess two-base blow. Ted Kluszewski rapped a double to center field for the second marker.

The Cubs pulled even, 2-2, in the fourth inning on two singles and a double.

Two insurance markers came on Speake's run-making single in the sixth and Cal Neenan's homer in the eighth.

The teams were marked down for a doubleheader, but rain washed out the nightcap in the third inning when the Reds were ahead, 4-2. The teams plan to replay it next Monday when the Reds return here.

Today is a day of rest for the Reds. The team continues on to Brooklyn Tuesday night for the first of two games scheduled with the Dodgers.

Lary, posting his sixth Detroit victory against 15 losses, helped his cause with a two-run single that snapped a 1-1 tie and handed Billy Pierce his ninth defeat.

Against 16 triumphs, Sherm Lollar drove in two Chicago runs with a single and his ninth homer in the second game.

The Cardinals overcame a 6-1 deficit and finally triumphed in the 10th when Musial walloped his 26th home run of the year with a mate aboard. Musial also collected a pair of hits in the nightcap.

Snider hit his 30th and 31st home runs for Brooklyn. The first came in the seventh of the opener to overcome a 1-0 Pittsburgh lead and give Sal Maglie his sixth victory. The blow came after Junior Gilliam had singled for the first off loser Bob Friend. Pittsburgh's four runs in the eighth on the nightcap were unearned, all runs coming after Don Zimmer's error.

Ernie Banks helped Bob Rush gain his fourth victory for Chicago, driving in three runs with a double and his 27th home run.

MARC Leader Stacey Triumphs at Canfield

CANFIELD — National leader Nelson Stacey of Cincinnati conquered his Canfield Speedway jinx last Saturday night, piloting his 1957 Chevrolet Convertible to a notable triumph in the MARC new car race before 6,547 fans. It was the first time that Stacey, who has been showing the way to both new car and convertible drivers, has bagged a victory at Canfield this year.

Stacey moved into the lead on the 73rd lap after Roy Gemberling of Kent had held the top spot. Gemberling settled for second place ahead of Iggy Katona, 1955-56 champion from Lambertville, Mich.

Prisoner Kills Fellow Inmate

Wounds Another in Gallia County Jail

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio — Gallia County Sheriff Oscar Baird said a first degree murder charge will be lodged today against a 42-year-old prisoner accused of killing one inmate and wounding another in a jail cell here Saturday.

Rell Blankenship, of near Vinton, is accused of killing Loren Borden, 26, of porter, who was being held in Gallia County Jail on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Sheriff Baird said Blankenship also shot Arnold Cooper, 26, of Porter. Cooper Sunday night was reported in satisfactory condition at Holzer Hospital here with a bullet wound near his heart.

Sheriff's officials said Cooper is a Negro as was Borden. Blankenship, a white man, shared a cell with the two.

Baird said Blankenship has refused to give any reason for firing at the two inmates. The sheriff said he talked Sunday night with Cooper in the hospital and that Cooper had no idea why Blankenship turned on him. He said neither he nor Borden had fought or argued with Blankenship.

Baird said Blankenship is being held under guard, but he declined to say whether the prisoner is still at the county jail here. He said "security" reasons prevented him from divulging Blankenship's whereabouts.

The sheriff said he will also file charges for attempted escape against Blankenship, and that he may later bring charges of shooting with intent to kill against Blankenship for firing at Cooper.

Couple's Deaths May Be Suicide, Murder

AKRON, Ohio — Suicide, and probable murder was the ruling made by the Summit County Coroner's office in the deaths of Russell Mc Cracken, 45, and his wife, Mamie, 38.

Their bodies were discovered in their home Sunday by their 12-year-old son, Russell Jr. Each had a gunshot wound in the head.

The coroner's office has not determined which one was killed and which committed suicide.

Fatal Shooting of Housekeeper Probed

CLEVELAND — Homicide detectives are investigating the death of Shirley Liptack, about 25, who was shot in the forehead Sunday at the home where she worked as a housekeeper.

Donald R. Truxal, 41, told police that she threatened him with a gun and when he attempted to disarm her it accidentally discharged.

Truxal said he hired her to care for his four children following the death of his wife.

Mahoning County ASC Office Announces Election Results

Results of the annual ASC community elections which were tabulated Thursday were announced this week by the Mahoning County ASC office.

A total of 401 ballots was cast in the various townships. This was 32 more than cast in last year's ASC elections in the county.

Newly elected chairmen and vice chairmen of the community committees will serve as delegates

Supply of Steel To be Adequate

CLEVELAND — The steel supply, with a few exceptions, will be adequate and prices likely will be stable the rest of the year, giving buyers more comfort than they have had in many years, Steel magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said that for the first time in 16 years the buyer can specify the form and shape of steel he wants and be assured of getting it within a reasonable delivery time.

"Contributing to the adequacy of steel supplies," the publication said, "are increased capacities of the steel industry and the production continuity that is made possible by the three-year labor contract in the industry."

High School Band Newcomers to Meet

All freshmen and new students who expect to play with the Salem High School Band are requested to meet Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. in front of the school for drill practice.

Announcement was made by Richard Howenstein, director of the marching band.

New Waterford

A boy scout charter night was held last Monday evening at the New Waterford Fish and Game Club house. Robert Beck presented the charter to Norman Wilhelm who accepted it for the P.T.A. of the New Waterford School, who is sponsoring the boy scouts. They also received their pins.

Wallace Delworth and troupe 35 from East Palestine had charge of the ceremony. William Kinear is scout master, other officers are Virgil Booth, Glenn Seachrist, Walter Esterly, Ed Cowan, Lester McConville, Frank Coteila and Charles Koch. The meeting is held every Monday evening at the Fish and Game Club house.

Mrs. Eugene Walton held a linen shower last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Carina Arbanitis of Winona, who will marry Jerry Czatt on September 1st at the Winona Methodist Church.

Mrs. May Ellis of Warren visited Mr. and Mrs. William Filler this past week.

Mrs. Clara Arnholt of Mansfield is visiting this week with her sister, Mrs. Jeanette Johnston.

Ohion Who Attended Red Event to Return CINCINNATI — Charlotte Saxe, Cincinnati music student who took part in the recent Youth festival at Moscow despite State Department warnings she would aid Communist propaganda, is slated to return home this week.

Her father, Samuel Saxe, said Sunday night she telephoned from England and said she was "enjoying herself and will be home in a few days."

Some members of the American group accepted invitations to go on to Red China—despite further State Department warnings.

Miss Saxe has been touring European countries enroute back to the United States.

Mrs. Smith Entertains Church Class

EAST ROCHESTER — The Busy Workers Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church met recently at the home of Mrs. Pearl Smith.

Mrs. Rena Heim was co-hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Betz entertained the following guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore of Maumee, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Williams of Massillon, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Snivel and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lafferty of Canton and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Erb of Augusta.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis spent their vacation at Guilford Lake.

Reuther Asks Firms to Cut Prices of Autos

DETROIT — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, has asked the auto industry's Big Three to cut car prices in return for modified union contract demands.

There was no immediate comment from the auto firms.

Reuther wrote the heads of Chrysler Corp., General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. asking them to cut auto prices by at least $100 a car. He said in return the UAW would modify its new contract demands next year.
